HISTORY

Overview

It's difficult to fathom the breathtaking view that Charles and Emeline Hake encountered when they first laid eyes on the Coal Creek Valley. Back in 1860, what is now known as the Town of Superior consisted of merely a handful of European pioneers. Nestling themselves alongside Coal Creek in what is now Original Town Superior, the Hakes embarked on acquiring land from the U.S. Government and the railroads, building a thriving farming legacy with an eye toward the future.

In 1892, Charles Hake stumbled upon coal reserves beneath the ground. This discovery led to the establishment of the Industrial Mine in 1896, and in that same year, Hake laid out a town site. He sold plots of land and marketed the coal as having "no superior in the state," thus giving birth to the town's name - Superior.

Over the following decades, the population of Superior remained relatively modest, with miners and their families settling in the town to work in the coal mines of the Industrial Mine. However, the end of World War II marked the decline of the coal mining era. By the time the Industrial Mine closed its doors in 1945, it had produced nearly 4 million tons of this coveted fuel.

Throughout the subsequent four decades, Superior remained a tranquil and secluded corner of Boulder County, little known to the outside world. Everything changed in the 1990s with the development of a master-planned community by Richmond Homes, known as Rock Creek Ranch. The Town of Superior annexed Rock Creek, leading to significant improvements such as upgraded water and sewer access, as well as paved streets for the Original Superior.

Ever since Rock Creek Ranch revolutionized Superior thirty years ago, the town has experienced extraordinary growth. Despite its modest size of just four square miles, Superior now boasts a population nearing 14,000, along with 630 acres of parks, green space, and an extensive 35-mile trail network.

Now, Downtown Superior is redefining the town once again, bringing a wave of new residents, businesses, and commercial opportunities. This thriving district is quickly becoming a hub for local entrepreneurs and unique experiences, with exciting new businesses like Halcyon Mind+Body; Boulder Baked, and Krak Boba.

LIVE IN Superior

Like many towns in Colorado, Superior has an intriguing history rooted in coal mining. Renowned for its exceptional quality of coal, the locals affectionately named the town Superior. Today, Superior boasts a close-knit community of just under 13,000 residents, who take immense pride in their hometown. Nestled on the outskirts of Boulder, Superior offers its residents an exceptional living experience filled with a myriad of amenities and activities.

Residents of Superior are spoiled for choice when it comes to entertainment options. Movie theaters, shopping centers, delightful dining establishments, and lively summer concerts are just a few of the attractions that make life in Superior exciting and fulfilling.

Approximately 25% of the town's land is dedicated to open spaces, providing ample opportunities for outdoor enthusiasts to embark on thrilling adventures, including world-class hiking and biking. As an added bonus, Superior is often referred to as the "Gateway to Boulder Valley" due to its breathtaking vistas of the majestic Flatirons and the Rocky Mountains. Its strategic location between Boulder and Denver further enhances the appeal of this charming community, captivating locals with its quaint and inviting atmosphere.

Superior's unique blend of natural beauty and well-planned development has made it a highly sought-after residential destination. While a significant portion of the town is dedicated to picturesque open spaces, there is a diverse range of housing options to cater to the needs of its residents. Single-family homes dominate the real estate landscape, offering a sense of privacy and comfort. Additionally, there is a mix of smaller housing options available, such as condos, townhomes, and apartments, providing alternatives for those seeking a more compact living arrangement.

Within Superior, several neighborhoods stand out for their distinctive features. Rock Creek and Sagamore, for instance, exude a welcoming suburban ambiance, complemented by nearby shopping and dining establishments. Rock Creek specifically offers a range of housing options, including single and multi-family homes. The community boasts various amenities, such as paved walking trails, swimming pools, and parks, creating a family-friendly environment that is cherished by its residents.

One of the many reasons families choose to call Superior home is the ease of access to exceptional educational opportunities. The town's convenient location allows for seamless commuting to neighboring Broomfield, Boulder, and Denver, ensuring parents can provide their children with access to top-tier schools in the region.

Superior is more than just a town—it is a vibrant community that captures the hearts of its residents. With its rich history, picturesque surroundings, and convenient amenities, Superior continues to be a place where residents can embrace a truly exceptional Colorado lifestyle.

SCHOOLS

Superior

The Town of Superior is situated within the Boulder Valley School District (BVSD), encompassing 56 schools and serving over 30,000 students. Within Superior, there are two schools available: Superior Elementary, catering to students from Kindergarten to 5th Grade, and Eldorado, accommodating students from Kindergarten to 8th Grade. High school students from Superior are transported to Monarch High School in Louisville.

BVSD implements an Open Enrollment policy, allowing students the freedom to attend any BVSD school as long as there is available space, with parents responsible for transportation. For younger students, Monarch Kindergarten to 8th Grade in Louisville and Summit Middle Charter School in Boulder are popular choices under the open-enrollment system. High school students often opt for Peak to Peak Charter School in Lafayette or Fairview High School in Boulder.

When it comes to early childhood education, The Goddard School in Louisville and the Primrose School (Chamber Member) in Broomfield are well-regarded choices. Additionally, families seeking faith-based education can consider St. Louis Catholic School in Louisville and Holy Family High School in Broomfield.
